The Historical Legacy of Juneteenth

Emancipation Day celebration, June 19, 1900 held in "East Woods" on East 24th Street in Austin. Credit: Austin History Center

On "Freedom's Eve," or the eve of January 1, 1863, the first Watch Night services took place. On that night, enslaved and free African Americans gathered in churches and private homes all across the country awaiting news that the Emancipation Proclamation had taken effect. At the stroke of midnight, prayers were answered as all enslaved people in Confederate States were declared legally free. Union soldiers, many of whom were black, marched onto plantations and across cities in the south reading small copies of the Emancipation Proclamation spreading the news of freedom in Confederate States. Only through the Thirteenth Amendment did emancipation end slavery throughout the United States.

But not everyone in Confederate territory would immediately be free. Even though the Emancipation Proclamation was made effective in 1863, it could not be implemented in places still under Confederate control. As a result, in the westernmost Confederate state of Texas, enslaved people would not be free until much later. Freedom finally came on June 19, 1865, when some 2,000 Union troops arrived in Galveston Bay, Texas. The army announced that the more than 250,000 enslaved black people in the state, were free by executive decree. This day came to be known as "Juneteenth," by the newly freed people in Texas.

The post-emancipation period known as Reconstruction (1865-1877) marked an era of great hope, uncertainty, and struggle for the nation as a whole. Formerly enslaved people immediately sought to reunify families, establish schools, run for political office, push radical legislation and even sue slaveholders for compensation. Given the 200+ years of enslavement, such changes were nothing short of amazing. Not even a generation out of slavery, African Americans were inspired and empowered to transform their lives and their country.

Juneteenth marks our country's second independence day. Although it has long celebrated in the African American community, this monumental event remains largely unknown to most Americans.

The historical legacy of Juneteenth shows the value of never giving up hope in uncertain times. The National Museum of African American History and Culture is a community space where this spirit of hope lives on. A place where historical events like Juneteenth are shared and new stories with equal urgency are told.

June 21, 2024

I am thrilled to extend my heartfelt support to the organizers, participants, and community members involved in the 2024 SWLA Juneteenth Banquet & Scholarship Pageant. This event stands as a beacon of celebration, reflecting both the rich history and the vibrant future of our community in Lafayette and in Acadiana.

Juneteenth is not only a time to commemorate the end of slavery in the United States but also an opportunity to celebrate the continued pursuit of equality and justice. The annual SWLA Juneteenth Banquet & Scholarship Pageant plays a crucial role in this celebration, educating our youth about our shared history and inspiring them with stories of resilience and courage.

Thank you for your leadership and commitment to preserving and promoting our history. I look forward to the continued success of the SWLA Juneteenth Banquet & Scholarship Pageant and to the opportunities it provides for our young people.

Sincerely,

“The Black National Anthem,” Lift Every Voice and Sing

[Verse 1]

Lift every voice and sing
Till earth and heaven ring
Ring with the harmonies of Liberty
Let our rejoicing rise
High as the listening skies
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea
Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us
Sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us
Facing the rising sun of our new day begun
Let us march on till victory is won

[Verse 2]

God of our weary years
God of our silent tears
Thou who hast brought us thus far on the way
Thou who hast by Thy might Led us into the light
Keep us forever in the path, we pray
Lest our feet stray from the places, our God, where we met Thee
Lest our hearts, drunk with the wine of the world, we forget Thee
Shadowed beneath Thy hand, may we forever stand
True to our God, true to our native land

Goodness of God

I love You, Lord
For Your mercy never fails me
All my days, I've been held in Your hands
From the moment that I wake up
Until I lay my head
Oh, I will sing of the goodness of God
And all my life You have been faithful
And all my life You have been so, so good
With every breath that I am able
Oh, I will sing of the goodness of God
I love Your voice
You have led me through the fire
In the darkest night
You are close like no other
I've known You as a Father
I've known You as a Friend
And I have lived in the goodness of God (yeah)
And all my life You have been faithful (oh)
And all my life You have been so, so good
With every breath that I am able
Oh, I will sing of the goodness of God (yeah)
'Cause Your goodness is running after
It's running after me
Your goodness is running after

It's running after me
With my life laid down
I'm surrendered now
I give You everything
'Cause Your goodness is running after
It's running after me (oh-oh)
'Cause Your goodness is running after
It's running after me
Your goodness is running after
It's running after me
With my life laid down
I'm surrendered now
I give You everything
'Cause Your goodness is running after
It keeps running after me
And all my life You have been faithful
And all my life You have been so, so good
With every breath that I am able
Oh, I'm gonna sing of the goodness of God
(I'm gonna sing, I'm gonna sing)
'Cause all my life You have been faithful
And all my life You have been so, so good
With every breath that I am able
Oh, I'm gonna sing of the goodness of God
Oh, I'm gonna sing of the goodness of God

Teka Briscoe

Born and raised on the Northside of Lafayette, Teka Briscoe started singing in the church choir at age of seven. Over the years, her love of all musical genres and vocal performance provided her with opportunities to work with artists throughout the country and abroad.

Her theater involvement accolades include Muse #2 in Little Shop of Horrors, Nell Carter in Ain't Misbehavin, Sara Vaughn in the American Songbook, Still Ain't Misbehavin, the Reprisal as the Artistic Director. Most recently she played Fannie Lou Hamer in a short film, "The Chamber Room" written by Natalie Spencer, a member of the Ensemble cast for Shelby Have's adaptation of the Broadway Musical, Rent and Queen Mama in the Juneteenth Story written by Twana Benoit.

Teka Briscoe is a mother of three incredibly gifted children, a graduate of the University of Louisiana at Lafayette and is employed by Lafayette Consolidated Government. She's a member of Destiny of Faith Church's praise team and on the Board of Directors for Love of People, a non-profit organization.

Leigha T. Porter, M,E

As a choreographer, entrepreneur, and dance educator, I'm always on the MOVE. Making boss moves and actual dance moves is my super power. I'm a trained dancer who turned my God-given talent into a business. Every-day, I'm blessed to wake up and work with some of the most amazing and talented people in the world— from companies and organizations, to artist: women, men and youth—creating choreography, spearheading programs, writing stage productions, and mentoring the next generation of entrepreneurs and leaders. That's right, I'm MOVING hunny! Tell me how can we collaborate. Let's Make MOVES.

A Queen

it’s not about upstaging anyone and dominating the conversation it’s being a part of the conversation.

Character of a Queen

The character of National Miss Juneteenth is a young woman of faith, courage, patriotism, being dutiful to her family, her church and community. There must be a distinct charm in her aspect and manner since, “She obtained favor in the sight of all of them that looked upon her.” ~ Esther 2:15

Talent Competition

Talent performances are the single aspect of the competition that where each queen has her moment to shine. Our judges score based on interpretive ability, technical skill, and stage presence. The scores will be measured within the framework of each individual presentation, no comparative judging.

Empress Wilson, Mistress of Ceremony

Empress Wilson currently a student at Loyola University where she's a Theater Arts Major and Business Administration Minor. When she's not busy with school, she likes to keep her creative ideas flowing.

In her free time, she loves to engage in modeling. It's a creative outlet that lets her express herself through fashion and poses. Whether in front of the camera or planning a new photoshoot, modeling gives Empress a sense of confidence and joy. It's not just about the clothes or the makeup; it's about telling a story and capturing a moment. Every shoot is a new adventure, and she enjoys every bit of it. Also, Empress has done many Black student made short films. It's an amazing experience that allows her to collaborate with creative minds and bring stories to life. Each project is unique, offering new challenges and opportunities to learn and grow. She loves the excitement on set, the good energy with other students, and the satisfaction of seeing the final product. Being part of these films not only strengthens her acting skills but, also gives her a sense of accomplishment.

Dalfred Jones, Jr., Master of Ceremony

He attended Grambling State University where he played football and majored in Broadcasting.

He began his journey with KLFY TV10 in 2011 as an intern while home on summer break from GSU. In 2013, after receiving his Bachelor's degree in Broadcast Journalism, he was hired as a General Assignment Reporter.

With his commitment to the job and unbiased storytelling, he was called on to fill-in on the anchor desk. In 2015, his news director noticed his passion for the people of Acadiana and willingness to find answers to their problems. With that, Dial Dalfred was born! With these in-depth investigative reports, he hears people's concerns in their workplaces or communities and finds the root of the problem, or consumer alert stories where he advises people on how to go about handling a situation.

His work garnered the attention of the community and he began receiving recognition and several awards for his work on air and in the community. Most recently he was honored as one of Acadiana's Top 20 under 40 in 2021, and selected to be a part of Leadership Lafayette's XXXV class, and now a graduate.

For years, he has served as substitute teacher at the same middle and high school he attended growing up.

When not working to serve his community, Dalfred enjoys sports, music, traveling and trying new things with his wife and three sons.

No one is born hating another person because of the color of their skin, background or his religion. People must learn/taught to hate, and if they learn to hate, they can be taught to love, for love comes more naturally to the human heart than its opposite.
